Security Gate To Safeguard Art Exhibits

Exhibits in the College Union art gallery have finally received protection. A gate has been installed at the entrance of the art gallery in order to protect exhibits from theft or damage. According to Ron Barrett, College Union director, the gate was installed "for security reasons."

"There are some exhibits for which we must provide security," reports Barrett. "We have to be able to lock off the area unless people are there to watch them."

Barrett said that the area will still remain open most of the time the C.U. is operating. It will close only during times when the Union is crowded, especially during dances.

"For some exhibits we will never lock the area," said Barrett. "It all depends on what is being displayed. We hate to see this method used, but we feel that it's the least offensive method of security. It really won't effect access to the area to any great extent," Barrett added.

The need for a gate has arisen from recent thefts of exhibits on display in the gallery. During one exhibit, two pieces on display, combined value of $450, were taken from the gallery.

The gate will not block viewing of the exhibits from outside the gallery during the periods when it is closed.

RAM Plans March, Pickets for Reagan

Gov. Ronald Reagan will be in San Jose tomorrow afternoon and the Radical Action Movement (RAM) plans to greet him.

Gov. Reagan will be speaking at the dedication of the new San Jose Police Administration Building at 201 W. Mission Street. He is scheduled to make an address at 3 p.m.

RAM has called for a 1:30 p.m. rally to be followed by a march to the dedication proceedings. The rally will be at St. James Park, First and St. James streets.

Gov. Reagan will be holding a press conference at Ricky's Hyatt House in Palo Alto at 1:30 p.m.

Picketing and another rally are tentatively scheduled to take place in front of the Police Administration Building. Gov. Reagan will be speaking in the lobby, and a RAM spokesman said yesterday that the demonstrators will not attempt to enter the building.

At 8 p.m. Gov. Reagan will be addressing the Association of Metropolitan San Jose at the New Mediterranean Center at Ricky's Hyatt House.

RAM is planning an informational rally for 12:30 p.m. today on Seventh Street. The speakers for today's and tomorrow's rallies have not been announced. However, a RAM spokesman said yesterday that someone from his organization would definitely be speaking, and that a Black Student Union representative and a community leader would probably speak.

According to a poster being circulated by RAM, Gov. Reagan's appearance is being protested because they believe he: "Collaborated with Dumke" in the firing of Dr. Eldred Rutherford; was responsible for imposing tuition on state universities; conspired to "break the Delano Grape Strike;" and committed other "crimes against the people."

Popcorn-Chewing Council OKs Supplement

By RENEE BAYER
Daily Political Writer

A $2500 special allocation request for five "Third World" supplements to the Spartan Daily was approved by Associated Student (A.S.) Council at yesterday's meeting. Several other requests were approved during the popcorn-eating festivities.

As business began, Sociology Instructor Jim "Flash" Walsh sold nickel and dime bags of popcorn to council members and lobby spectators.

"This place is a spectacle and its turning into a circus and popcorn is befitting of a circus," declared "Flash."

Numerous appointments were approved by council; the five council positions not among them. After roll call, it was brought up by councilman Larry Lundberg that upper division representative Greg Ball had not officially resigned and was therefore, still a council member. This fact, in actuality, would leave four positions open on council rather than five. Councilman Bob Willich asked that written resignations from the five retiring council members be presented to council before a vote is taken on the appointments. Council appointments were tabled until the next meeting.

Appointments approved by council were: Advisory, Rene Welti and Victoria Hernandez; Opinion poll, Denny Meyer and John Long; Rally Committee, Jerry Hosteller.

In other action, council approved a motion to increase the staff of welfare case eligibility workers and decrease the present work load of eligibility workers. Council also called for rescinding of an order by the Santa Clara County Board of Supervisors which requires single students to have a parental statement of financial assistance before obtaining food stamps.

Heated discussion among council members arose prior to the passing of the $2500 allocation for "Third World" supplements. Councilman Terry Speizer charged the "three cohorts in crime" (as he called them) Henry Delgadillo, Luis Candelaria, and Juan Olivera with being "racist" because of an article in yesterday's Daily which asked for copy from "any Chicano, Black, Oriental or American Indian students," instead of all minorities.

Academic Council member, Juan Antu, explained that he had contacted the Jews, Arabs, the BSU, Black Studies Department, Chicano Masters Program, the Indian element and other minority groups asking them to submit copy for the supplement.

A $2260 special allocation request by Reed Magazine was approved by Council, with the stipulation that $1200 may be reverted back to the general allocations fund.

A jazz ensemble request of $1495 for a trip to the Los Angeles Festival was approved. Other requests approved by council were $600 by the Bureau of Academic Affairs for operating expenses, $300 by the Election Board and $150 by the Spring Budget Committee for operating expenses.

Council also approved the underwriting of a $2500 request by the Black EOP for the B.B. King concert May 25 in the men's gym.

A.S. President James Edwards gave reports on the EOP program meeting with Gov. Ronald Reagan and the progress of Dr. Rutherford's case. It was reported that efforts are being directed toward the trustees to overrule Dr. Dumke's firing of Dr. Rutherford.

A $500 request by the Public Relations Office to disseminate information to educate students to the Rutherford issue was amended to $200, then $400, and then failed to receive any definite action after councilman Bob Willich called for a roll call vote. With much business left unfinished, council was adjourned due to lack of a quorum.

Music Festivals May Face End

The California Legislature is considering two bills which could end outdoor rock music festivals.

The bills provide that a local government can refuse to grant a permit for any assembly, meeting or parade of more than 5,000 people unless the sponsors agree to pay all costs of preserving and protecting the public health and safety, including all costs of policing the event and other expenses.

The bills also stipulate that security for those costs can be demanded in advance. One bill limits the security to $5 million; the other has no limit.

If the bills pass, rock concert promoters probably would be required to pay excessive sums of money to have a concert.

Mage Terms Dumke Action 'A Betrayal'

"Rutherford's firing is a betrayal because Chancellor Dumke did not comply with the procedural requirements of the Education Code," said Dr. David T. Mage, president of American Federation of Teachers (AFT), during an interview Tuesday.

"He is being fired solely because of his union activities as a strike leader and open political beliefs which are opposed to those of Gov. Reagan and Max Rafferty, superintendent of schools."

Mage further stated, "Chancellor Dumke is in complete violation of the strike agreement and he is singling out Rutherford from more than 300 striking professors at SJS and San Francisco State who have all been reinstated."

AFT has planned no individual action as yet, but does plan to aid the Academic Council along with the college community in presenting the facts of the case to Chancellor Dumke.

Mage pointed out that Rutherford's firing is not strictly an AFT matter, but that it involves all organizations and the entire academic community. "If Dr. Rutherford is not reinstated, this will be an end to campus autonomy," he said.

He disclosed that campus autonomy will be null and void and campus political decisions will be in the hands of the trustees.

An eight-page issue of Now magazine will accompany the regular edition of the Spartan Daily tomorrow. The March 13 issue of Now is the first of this semester's three issues. Tomorrow's magazine includes a feature story on Yoga, an interview with a Planned Parenthood representative, a birth control pill survey conducted at SJS and a story on the changes in the Experimental College.

United Front vs. Recruiters

Corporation Debate Set

By GARY PIERCE
Daily Political Writer

A debate will take place next Wednesday between corporation recruiters and their critics.

The debate was called for by the United Front Against War Related Recruiting. Three corporation spokesmen will be debating with three United Front representatives.

The debate will center around "The role of corporations in the United States."

Plans for the debate were formulated in a Tuesday afternoon meeting of United Front representatives and Dr. William J. Dusel, executive vice president. Dr. Edward W. Clements, placement director, and Dean C. Newman, instructor of engineering, were also present.

SPOKESMEN PRESENT

Dennis O'Neal, Bob Cannon, and Richard Ferry were the United Front spokesmen. In addition, Hal Weiner, chairman of the College Union Program Board (CUPB), was in attendance.

The debate will run from 12:30 to 2:30 p.m. in Morris Dailey Auditorium. Each of the six participants will be allowed 10 minutes to make his position known. After all of the panelists have been heard, each one will be allotted five minutes of rebuttal. A moderator will keep track of the time.

Following the discussion, questions will be accepted from the audience. Thirty minutes is presently planned for questions.

Dr. Clements will contact corporations this week in an attempt to convince three "policy level" spokesmen to participate in the debate.

The corporations to be represented in the debate will be known by next Tuesday.

The three United Front members at Tuesday's meeting expressed a desire for representatives from such companies as Food Machinery Corporation (FMC), Standard Oil, Dow Chemical, and General Electric.

COMMITTEE REVIEW

According to Dr. Clements, FMC is headquartered in San Jose and should be able to send someone.

Newman attended the meeting because he is chairman of a special president's committee which is reviewing the entire recruitment issue. He stated that he and all of the members of the committee would be present at the debate.

Newman's committee will meet Monday morning at 10:30 in room 110, Tower Hall. He has invited the United Front to send a representative to read a position paper. The three United Front members at the meeting agreed that a member of their group would appear.

The United Front debaters have yet to be chosen. It is possible, according to Ferry, that a faculty member may be one of the three debaters.

Last week, the United Front presented a demand to the Administration stating recruiters should either be forced off campus or consent to a debate with their critics.

Acting President Robert Burns and Dr. Dusel both cited a State College Board of Trustees ruling that recruiters must be allowed on campus. However, they each agreed that a debate could be beneficial.

C.U. — More Than Brick and Glass

By CAROLE KAPLAN
Special to the Daily

There it stands, $4.5 million worth of red brick, concrete, and glass. Who directs the activities within this building? Ronald C. Barrett, director of the College Union.

According to Barrett, his role is the general establishment of policies in council with the Union Board of Governors and the staff and the operation of the union facility. This involves the hiring and training of the professional and clerical staff responsible to him.

A third area of work for Barrett, is to act as liaison with the Spartan Shops. This includes the foodshops and the bookstore. They are not under Barrett's direction. William Felse is the manager. He works from the Student Affairs Business Office in the Union. Both men work together with the Board of Governors.

VISIT ONE OFFICE

Other activities, meetings, conferences, booths, and dances that occur in the Union and on the campus are handled through the director's office. When Barrett first came to this campus one and one-half years ago, after working for seven years, booking a room any place on campus was a decentralized operation. "Now a person can reserve a room, audio-visual equipment, chairs and security officers by visiting one office.

The person to see in the director's office is Connie Brown. According to Barrett, the fall semester was so busy a temporary girl, Ellie Pederson, had to help Miss Brown.

RESERVING ROOMS

Any individual or group, faculty or student, may reserve a room on campus. However, to reserve a room in the Union, Barrett said, the applicant must be a recognized student or faculty group on campus. Any individual or unrecognized group may book space elsewhere on campus. This too, would be done through Barrett's office.

To become recognized, Barrett said, a group must present a constitution, and a statement of purpose. The group may or may not have an adviser, he said. The Associated Student Council will make its recommendations to the dean of students. He will in turn make his recommendation to Acting President Robert Burns. He makes the final decision. When the group has been given college approval, the Union director's office is notified, and the group may book a room.

Three people report directly to Barrett. They are Patrick Wiley, the assistant director of the union; Mrs. Mary Hudzikiewicz, program director, and J. J. Aasen, art coordinator.

Pat Wiley handles the day-to-day operation of the union. Five supervisors report to him. The custodian foreman cleans the union and sets up the chairs in the various rooms. Generally, this is an unseen crew. They work from midnight to 8 a.m., when few students are in the union. With a crew of 8 full-time men, one half-time maid, and four student part-timers, the union is cleaned. The Union is used over 100 hours per week.

The second crew is maintenance. They keep the machines, furniture, and elevators in use. The "crew" is composed of one busy man.

The other three crews are the games, information desk, and the night managers. According to Barrett, one full-time man and several students man the games and information desks. The night managers are the more mature students who run the union in the evenings and on the weekends, said Barrett.

'NOT TIED DOWN'

Mrs. Hudzikiewicz, the program director, is not as operationally tied down as Wiley, said Barrett. She works mainly with the College Union Program Board, as she has a full-time cultural clerk to handle the music listening room.

The art coordinator is a full-time faculty member who spends half his time in the Union. Aasen is responsible for the art exhibits within the building.

Besides the professional staff, there is a clerical staff. According to Barrett, the Union is administered by 23 full-time and 40 student part-time workers.

BUILDING DEBT

The $9 fee each student pays per semester goes to retiring the building's debt. Of the $4.5 million building cost, $3.2 million came from a federal government loan. It carries a 3 per cent interest rate, said Barrett, for 40 years, just like a mortgage on a home. One million one-hundred thousand dollars came from the Spartan food and book shops. Five hundred thousand dollars came from the student fees that have been collected for the last four years, according to Barrett. This went toward union furnishings to get the Union ready to open. The rest of the building money came from gifts.

The student fees pay for the building debt, operating costs, supplies and utilities. With inflation, Barrett said, the fee will probably go up. He added that the state limits the student fee level to $10 per semester or $20 per year. Without new legislation, the ceilings cannot be raised, he said. Student fees have been raised, but not for the union.

Future plans involve finishing the fourth floor of the Union when traffic flow necessitates expanding.

Nixon: 'No Reprisal'

"A generation ago, 'Four Freedoms' became a rallying cry for the forces of democracy: freedom of speech and of worship, and freedom from fear and want. Today let us examine the Four Academic Freedoms.

"—There is the academic freedom of the student to investigate any theory, to challenge any premise, to refuse to accept old shibboleths and myths.

"—There is a second academic freedom of the student to espouse any cause, to engage in the cut and thrust of partisan political or social debate, both on and off campus, without jeopardy to his or her academic career.

"—The third academic freedom is that of the teacher — freedom from fear of reprisal while speaking or publishing the truth as he sees it, governed by the dictates of his own intellect and of the disciplines of scholarship.

"—Finally, there is a fourth academic freedom — this one within the academic community — that is, the freedom of the student from tyranny by the faculty, and conversely, freedom of the faculty from student tyranny.

"These four academic freedoms underlie the concept of American education . . ."

—Richard M. Nixon, 1966.

The Spartan Daily agrees with Mr. Nixon's thoughts on academic freedom. We certainly hope his "reprisal" message reaches Chancellor Glenn S. Dumke.

Academic Freedom Peril

By JIM PAXTON
A.S. Public Relations

The Rutherford firing is only a symptom of a much larger problem in the state college system. All over California, students are fighting isolated skirmishes to obtain academic freedom.

At normally passive San Diego State students are rallying and threaten to strike over the firing of some professors.

At Long Beach State two sociology professors were fired. The campus is planning a convocation on academic fairness.

The list goes on with atrocities at Fresno, Sonoma, San Francisco, and Hayward.

The associated students are organizing a statewide information system that will send information to all the other colleges about the Rutherford affair, and collect information about problems on other campuses.

Along with the exchanging of information, we are attempting to obtain resolutions of support from the state college student and academic councils. Support is also being solicited from student newspapers.

There are other positive things to report. First, we have received support from all of the Santa Clara County legislators with the exception of Clark Bradley. They have promised to use their influence in every way possible.

The Associated Student organization has set up information booths on Seventh Street and in front of the union. An information bulletin will be distributed from time to time to update students on what is being done.

Groups are working on the departmental level to take the issues into the classroom and establish dialogues both on and off campus.

Academic council has received word that the Chancellor will review the Rutherford case, so the pressure must increase.

All this is being done by the Associated Students to build a statewide coalition for the statewide problems of local hiring, firing, tenure, and rights of controversial professors. Each of us must continue the pressure by writing letters, providing manpower for the project, and getting the issues discussed.

We have the direction, a goal, and we have the committees to carry out a workable program. What is needed now is the manpower to make our committees work.

'A Voice of Sanity Needed'

By YOUNG AMERICANS FOR FREEDOM

The chairman of the College Union Board of Governors has a very unpolitical reason for opposing the use of the College Union by recruiters. In a demonstration scuffle, he said "Someone might be killed by being accidentally pushed over the railing."

Chicano students, angered over an allegedly "racist" advertisement, were not content simply to express indignation and ask that the ad be stricken from further issues. They felt it necessary to collect as many copies of the Spartan Daily as possible and dispose of them: in the fountain, on the floor of the Daily office, in waste containers. In short, in any available place to prevent dissemination to the student body.

Unhappy with the political decisions being made in the state of California, certain elements on campus banded together to support a candidate, who among other things, coined a campaign slogan of "Bust Reagan." Such impractical, juvenile baiting of an immensely popular Governor simply serves to further discredit the image of all students with Californians.

Students in Santa Barbara, unhappy with food and rent prices, as well as the outcome of the Chicago 7 trial, rampaged through the streets of that city. "Liberal"

Jesse Unruh rose to attack Governor Reagan as usual, only this time it was to criticize him for not sending troops in soon enough.

The list of violent and/or undemocratic actions by a minority of students could be expanded, but one more example will suffice here: Students at a New York college invaded a fraternity house, gave the occupants two days to get out and claimed the building for a Black Cultural Center.

Thus a vocal, violent minority abridged the rights of the majority. From what can be read, to how the Student Union may be used. From what buildings may be taken over to, most importantly, who is to determine the future of the college system.

Like it or not, the college system exists at the pleasure of the voters of California. Rational, coherent grievances expressed in a non-violent manner will not breed suppression. Irrational, violent raving will. It is not the right of the student to "demand," but rather ask that legitimate grievances be corrected. What is needed on the campus is a voice of sanity. The modulated voice of the majority can be heard over the screams of the minority.

Young Americans for Freedom hopes to be part of this majority. Join us.

'Reviewer Asleep?'

Editor:

Well, the Spartan Daily has done it again. Once more you have graced your pages with a distorted movie review that comes off as if the reporter (in this case, Jerry Kokesh) had never seen the film at all. This time the victim was "They Shoot Horses, Don't They?" One of Mr. Kokesh's problems stems from the fact that he cannot tell Jane Fonda from Susannah York; for their respective descriptions are confusedly matched to the wrong actresses.

Mr. Kokesh must have fallen asleep toward the end of the film, because he missed one of the most important scenes. He says in his review, "To win is to be $1500 richer. . ."; when actually, it is discovered by Miss Fonda that all the expenses resulting from the marathon are taken out of that $1500 before the winner cashes in; which leaves a sum hardly worth the pain that must be endured. Your reporter also fails to mention the brilliant performances by Red Buttons and Bonnie Bedelia, who play key roles in the production.

My suggestion to the Daily is to never print another movie review, as they never fail in twisting the plot. If the reviews are to continue, my suggestion to the readers is to disregard them.

'Ridiculous Review'

Editor:

One of the first things a beginning journalist learns is to be accurate. Therefore, I am wondering how Jerry Kokesh's ridiculous review ever got past the copy desk. In the first place, Jane Fonda played Gloria — not Susannah York. And Susannah York played the part of the Jean Harlow-type sex goddess.

The fact that your reviewer failed to catch the point of the movie altogether, besides mixing up players, leads one to wonder whether or not he actually saw the movie at all. Next time make him show his ticket stubs.

'No Program Offered'

Editor:

The United Front Against War Related Recruiters managed to indict some corporations in a March 5 article. No program, however, other than a rhetorical pledge never to have peace with "our oppressor, or pin flowers on the bloody bayonets of the aggressor," is offered. The program implied in the rhetoric is not hard to discern in a general way, but it's hardly clear what is proposed to end this system of capitalism. The warning, "He is paving the way for the suppression of all dissent and free thought on this campus," is a false one. Hobart Burns is hardly the cause for suppression; confrontation tactics, so be-

By MARY MORALES

The real import of the violence in Santa Barbara has been glossed-over by the press reports and by the Bank of America's paid editorial, partly through the fault of the students themselves, who have failed to express their despair in any more meaningful terms than the worn-out "anti-phrases," "capitalist establishment," "war in Vietnam," "the Chicago trial," "student repression," and "police brutality." These are the issues, but the terms have lost their effectiveness through overuse.

By no stretch of the imagination could it be said that such numbers — at one point, — of young people, the "cream of the crop," are publicity-hungry egotists or thrill-seekers. These types do exist, of course, but in small numbers, and they cannot win the support of the masses for violent action unless these believe that all legitimate means of protest and change have been exhausted.

FAILURE TO UNDERSTAND

The Bank of America's writers have failed to grasp the situation, the human conditions and anguish behind the violence, the type of violence it was. The available statistics on living conditions in Isla Vista — population very crowded, very high rents and prices, no municipal services besides plenty of police, substandard housing and absentee landlords — and the pattern of the rioting indicate that the violence there was of the same sort, and the same causes as that in Watts, Detroit and Harlem. You take a large number of repressed people, add the despair that these people feel when they realize that protests and "legal channels" will not change their situation, plus one small incident: the result is temporary insanity. The incident which touched off Isla Vista was the same as its counterpart in Watts. In each case, a young Black was arrested, someone asked why — in Watts, the boy's mother, in Isla Vista, a friend — and in both cases the police refused to answer and arrested the questioner.

The bank's spokesmen also erred in saying that "it could happen in your community," since their piece obviously is meant for the conservative, comfortable, well-insulated middle-class people who never see nor even read enough about the conditions of the lower classes to understand how such things can happen. In their world the American Dream is reality and there are no repressed people, no reason for revolt.

FEET IN COLLECTIVE MOUTH

The heading which the B of A writers chose for their editorial was very appropos, however. "Violence in America" is the title of a book produced by the "establishment" — by President Johnson's National Commission on the Causes and Prevention of Violence, under Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower — a book which documents the long and heavy history of violence in the U.S. It might be suggested that the Bank of America people read the whole book before they insert any more feet into their collective mouth. It will take much more than the actions of one bank, even a very rich and powerful one, to bring about a "rejection of violence as a means of political dissent."

On one point, however, the B of A's writers are right — dead right. Such violence can happen anywhere and with even more disastrous results. AND IT WILL. Because the same conditions of repression and despair exist in all parts of the country, each waiting for its own catalyst.

First Bible Reading Marathon Draws Enthusiastic Response

By FRANK FERTADO

BIBLE MARATHON—These people are reading the World's All-Time Best Seller, The Holy Bible. These people resisted the serpent, swam the flood, didn't look back, and came to read the oldest volume on the earth.

Tri-C, opened a Bible and read aloud, "A table of the descent of Jesus Christ, son of David, son of Abraham — Abraham was the father of Isaac."

SJS's first Bible Reading Marathon began Monday in the Pacific Room of the College Union. The event, co-sponsored by the Spartan Tri-C and the Campus Ambassadors Club (CAC), will continue through Friday and again on Monday, from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. daily.

During the six-day event, the

The sponsors use a passage from 1 Timothy 4:13 as their theme. It reads, "Give your time and effort . . . to the public reading of the Scriptures."

City College will hold a marathon beginning April 7, he said.

More than 50 individuals had participated in the readings by late yesterday afternoon. Readers sit around a circular table and each person reads a chapter of the Bible.

Marilyn Jansen, a former San Jose City College student, explained why she participated in the event. "I feel the Bible is God's word and what it says is a part of my life. Others should read it (the Bible) too, and find out the truth," she said.

Another participant in the marathon, Tim Brooks, added, "The Bible has played an important part in my life. I would like to share it with people."

TV Newsman Visits SJCC

"The United States cannot take the politics of the 1960's into the 1970's and expect them to work. Television and the communications revolution of the '60s has brought the 'real world' to the youth of America and politics as it has been taught to them does not reflect this real world, and is not relevant."

This is the opinion of Sander Vanocur, NBC newsman, who will examine the communications gap March 21 at San Jose City College, at 8 p.m. Vanocur has been an active political reporter in the past three Presidential campaigns. His talk will be entitled "Vanocur's Law," or "All Governments Lie."

Lamar School Attendance Up

Compiled from Associated Press

While 33 White adults marched peacefully near a police line, protesting integration of schools in Lamar, S.C., school attendance climbed sharply yesterday.

Attendance at the newly integrated schools was only 74 Tuesday, but yesterday school officials reported 251 in school.

About 1,000 are assigned to the community's high school and elementary school. Of the 251, 40 Whites and 112 Blacks attended the high school and 25 Whites and 74 Blacks attended the elementary school.

Tribal Justice

San Jose Superior Court Judge John S. McInerney will act March 20 on a Navajo Indian's argument that a 1868 peace treaty prevents the state from prosecuting him.

Wendell D. Benally, arrested Dec. 23 in San Jose and charged with two rapes, claims a peace treaty made with the Navajo Indians places him in the jurisdiction of tribal courts.

'Joint' Program

Mexico and the United States agreed Wednesday to set up a joint program to stop smuggling of narcotics along their 2,000-mile border.

The program includes $1 million in technical assistance to Mexico in communication equipment and chemicals for destroying poppy and marijuana fields south of the border.

Berkeley Burns

The University of California at Berkeley was hit with its second fire in two nights Tuesday when a blaze in Wheeler Hall caused $5,500 in damage.

Firemen are still investigating a $300,000 fire at the school's library Monday night.

Party Raid

Police in Philadelphia yesterday raided a sandbag fortified house, believed to be headquarters for the Black Panthers, and confiscated guns and ammunition while arresting seven.

Birth Control

ation adopted a resolution Wednesday asking the state to end all legal restraint against abortions by doctors.

Honor Societies Meet

Mrs. Mary McAlister, director of expansion for the National Council of Mortar Board honor society, arrives at SJS from Arcadia, this morning, to begin a two-day visit.

Mrs. McAlister will spend today, and Friday morning, in conferences with administrative personnel, student government representatives, and honorary campus organization representatives. Mortar Board was founded in 1918 and currently has 124 active chapters.

The honor society is designed to: provide for the cooperation between senior honor societies for women, (such as Black Masque at SJS); promote college loyalty; advance the spirit of service and fellowship among university women; promote and maintain a high standard of scholarship; recognize and encourage leadership; and to stimulate and develop a finer college woman.

Mortar Board membership is restricted to the top 35 per cent of each class in scholarship.

Representatives of All Women's Council requested a Mortar Board representative visit SJS. A letter from Mrs. McAlister in September, indicated that SJS had been selected by the National Council of Mortar Board as one of the colleges to be visited.

Preparations for Mrs. McAlister's visit have been made by the student activities office, Black Masque, and other SJS personnel participating in the two day curricula.

Overseas Studies Program Includes Math and Science

The International Program has recently expanded to include study at four British universities in mathematics and natural science, according to Dr. Frederic Weed, SJS program coordinator.

The program allows upper division and graduate students to receive SJS academic credit while attending a college in another country.

Applications must be filed by Friday, March 20, with Mrs. Ethel Bryant, Building AA.

The areas listed in mathematics include technological math, pure and applied modern math, computer science math and a graduate program in math theory of electromagnetic phenomena.

The four United Kingdom universities where the studies have been expanded are the universities of Dundee, Scotland, Wales and Bristol and Surrey, Dr. Weed noted.

For further information contact Dr. Weed in Building I, ext. 2842, or Dr. Marion Richards, program chairman, FO 207, ext. 2045.

For What It's Worth

By WALT YOST
Entertainment Columnist

The day rock and roll was heard in the White House

News item: The White House recently announced that President Nixon, as part of his "culture drive," was having a large library of records put in the Presidential mansion. One of the men in charge of selecting the records said he would make sure the collection was varied — including everything from classical to rock.

Scene: The White House Blue Room.
Aide: Mr. President, I'd like you to meet one of your new record librarians, Disc Jockey Wolfman Willie.
Nixon: Glad to make your acquaintance.
Wolfman Willie: Hey tricky-dicky, what's happening? Sold any used cars lately?

Nixon: I understand you've made a very broad selection in musical tastes that we can use to entertain all segments of our American society. All races, all religions, all...
Wolfman Willie (lighting a match on the President's rough jowls): You better believe it, baby.

Nixon (inspecting some of the record stacks): Yes, I see we have some Verdi, Mendelssohn, Bartok... (opening a box of records) hmmm... what have we here?

Aide: That's popular music, sir.
Nixon: Aah yes! You mean recordings by Eddy Arnold, Kate Smith, and Rudy Vallee?

Wolfman Willie: Not exactly. Actually more like Grand Funk, the Mothers of Invention, Dan Hicks and His Hot Licks, and the Electric Prunes.

Nixon: I can't say I'm too familiar with this new music. I know, I'll ask an expert's opinion. (Yells upstairs) Oh Tricia!

Tricia Nixon enters dressed immaculately in her leopard-skin midskirt, bobby sox and red, white and blue combat boots.

Tricia: Yes daddy-do! What is it?

Nixon: Well, dear, I'd like you to advise us on the selection of these popular albums here.

Tricia: Oh yes! Rock and roll music. In fact, I just finished my boogaloo lessons at Arthur Murray's.

Nixon: Are you familiar with the big... ahem... rock groups?

Tricia: You mean like the Box Tops, the Monkees, and Art Linkletter?

Wolfman Willie: That isn't what we mean. Here, let me play you a cut.

Sounds of a rock group blare forth. Seconds later a great commotion is heard outside the room. The door springs open to reveal a perspiring Spiro Agnew and half the cast of a Nelson Eddy-Jeanette MacDonald operetta (the White House guards).

Agnew: What's going on? Are you all right, Mr. President? It sounded like you were being attacked by some of those supercilious sophisticates.

Nixon: Listen, Spiro. This is nothing for you to get upset about. Why don't you go back to harassing the media and leave this to me?

Agnew (as he leaves): All right, but remember I'm here whenever you need me.

Nixon (with a sigh): I'm afraid, gentlemen, that rock and roll will never catch on in the White House.

Lenox Quartet To Appear Tuesday in College Union

The Lenox Quartet, featuring a classical-romantic-contemporary stylistic mixture, will perform Tuesday, March 17, at 8:15 p.m.

The performance is free to SJS students, $1.50 for faculty, staff and other students, and $2.50 for the general public.

The quartet takes its name from the town of its birth in Massachusetts where they were on the faculty of the Berkshire Music Center (Tanglewood Summer Festival). This was in 1958, and since then the quartet has traveled extensively to all parts of the world.

When not on concert tour, the Lenox is stationed in Binghamton, N.Y., where they are on the faculty of the State University of New York. They have also done extensive taping for educational television, with these programs having a wide distribution.

A unique aspect of the quartet is their ability to switch instruments within the quartet. This versatility of instrumental combination enhances their repertoire.

The group consists of Peter Marsh, a violinist from New Jersey; Delmar Pettys, violinist and violist from Portland, Oregon; Paul Hersh, violist and pianist who attended Yale University; and Donald McCall, a cellist from Philadelphia.

Advance tickets may be purchased at the Student Affairs Business Office in the College Union.

'Mod Squad' Influences Current Trend to Youth

By SUSAN SAFFOLD
Daily Entertainment Writer

The excitement of cops and robbers on TV went out with Highway Patrol and Dragnet. Suddenly, TV producers found themselves lacking any diversity or newness to police series. NYPD, Felony Squad, The New Breed, and Arrest and Trial, among others, have all fizzled out.

It looked pretty shaky for cops and robbers. Then came Mod Squad. Producers interjected a new ingredient — youth.

Mod Squad has enjoyed overwhelming success and seems to be headed for a continuance of high ratings. Reasons for the success of the series are fairly obvious. Consciously or unconsciously, the main reason shows stay on or off the air is dependent upon the viewer's involvement with the show. Furthermore, character likability, that is, characters that a viewer can easily identify with, is a paramount reason for the series' success. Mod Squad has these features.

Linc, Pete and Julie, the three main characters, are not only personally but realistically portrayed. They demonstrate a casual coolness and at the same time retain the needed dramatic flavor. Yet, the dullness and dryness that seems to hit most police series is missing.

When most police series have been on the air for any considerable length of time, the plots settle into a common routine. They become exactly that — common and routine. The viewer gets bored and the show is cancelled, sometimes halfway through the television season.

Mod Squad's characters are not overplayed as Peyton Place types, nor underplayed as in most police episodes.

This formula results in high ratings. Once again, youth has saved the plight of the cops and robbers' series.

VICTORY!—Elmo Dees of SJS raises his arms triumphantly just before hitting the tape in the mile relay in Saturday's meet on the Tartan track against UC Davis and Cal State Hayward. Dees took the baton five yards behind Don Webster of Hayward on the final leg and ran an excellent 47.5 as SJS won in 3:16.4. Dees also won the 440 in 47.7. Against Cal Saturday, Dees faces Jim Smith and Ed Benner, who have respective 440 bests of 47.3 and 47.9.

SJS Grad Named New SID; Ramey Moves to Radio Job

Wynn Cook, 27, was named yesterday by Dr. Robert Bronzan, director of athletics, to become the third Sports Information Director in two years at SJS.

The position of Sports Information Director at SJS is a full-time job . . . in a manner of speaking. It requires numerous hours of extra work beyond the normal 40-hour work week. Maybe that's the reason there's such a high turnover in the post.

Realistically though, the position normally serves as an interim job, a stepping stone, to another position within the mass communications field.

Cook will assume his new position March 23, taking over for Hal Ramey who has joined radio station KXRX as Sports Director.

Cook, a 1968 SJS grad with a B.A. degree in journalism, served as editor of the Spartan Daily.

He was Director of Public Relations for the San Jose Apaches of the Continental Football League and since his graduation, served with the United Press International in Los Angeles.

Ramey, who took over as S.I.D. in 1969 from Larry Close, will assume his new position at KXRX the last week in March.

Hal, who was graduated in January, 1969 from SJS, worked for KSFO through July 1969 before assuming his position here.

Bear Spikers Seek Upset

Pressure will be brought to bear on SJS' spikers Saturday when they take on a young and improving California squad at Berkeley at 1:15 p.m.

Although the Spartans are rated as a slight favorite, assistant coach Ernie Bullard stated "the meet will probably go 10 points either way."

Almost every event will be a key but an objective dope sheet on the meet done by Cal showed the Spartans winning 84-70.

But that was conceding to San Jose wins in the 440 relay and the sprints. The Spartans should win these races, but upsets are highly possible.

SJS' mainstay in the 100 and 220 is Kirk Clayton, one of the standouts in the past indoor season and one of the world's fastest rising sprint stars.

The Bears chief hope is Eddie Hart, California junior college champion in the 100 and 220 last year with a 9.2 and 20.9.

In the 440 relay, SJS will throw Clayton, Frank Slaton, hurdler George Carty and Ronnie Ray Smith. Whether Smith has gotten back into shape after being sick could be an important factor in the race.

California also has top sprinters on the 440 relay team that includes Hart, Isaac Curtis, who beat Hart in the 100 two weeks ago in an intrasquad meet, Dave Masters, a 9.5 sprinter, and Don Couser.

Netters Blast Gators; Host Hayward Today

Butch Krikorian's SJS tennis squad will seek to even its season record at 2-2 today against Cal State Hayward, following an impressive 7-0 victory over San Francisco State Tuesday.

Today's match gets underway at 2:30 p.m. on the Spartan courts.

Spartan ace Chuck White captured the number one singles match from Gator star John Wong, a former teammate of White's at City College of San Francisco, 6-3, 6-2.

The visiting Gators never got close to a singles win. Spartan Hank Lloyd had little trouble in overpowering Art Nolet, 6-1, 6-1 and Robbie Wheatley scored an identical win over Gator Bob Scott.

For both White and Lloyd, SJS' top performers, it marked their initial wins of the season for dual meet competition.

Rounding out the Spartan sweep of singles matches and initial season wins, were Jan Young, scoring a 6-2, 6-2 win over Mike Goatley and Rand Bogisich, blasting Doug Collins, 6-0, 6-0.

In doubles, Randy Berkman and Young teamed for a 4-6, 6-4, 6-4 win over Wong and Nolet.

Intramurals

Theta Chi meets ATO (8 p.m., PER) for the fraternity league championship and the Lucubators take on Zoo No. 1 (8:30 p.m., MG) for the independent basketball title, tonight.

The Lucubators' Mike Duggan scored 25 points and Johnnie Le-Tourneau 17 and got good board work from Jim Haley and Al Arechiga in storming past the Enforcers, 67-44 in action Tuesday.

In other action Tuesday, Zoo barely reached the finals by nipping the Panthers, 35-32.

Also tonight, US takes on the Dirty Derelicts and Moulder Hall No. 2 meet Sunshine Boys No. 2 with the winners meeting Monday for the lover division championship.

They're convenient enough to wear, once you get used to them, but, until recently, you had to use two or more different lens solutions to properly prepare and maintain contacts. You needed two or three different bottles, lens cases, and you went through more than enough daily rituals to make even the most steadfast individuals consider dropping out.

But now caring for your contacts can be as convenient as wearing them. Now there's LENSINE, from the makers of Murine. LENSINE is the one lens solution designed for complete contact lens care . . . preparing, cleansing, and soaking.

The other odor

No feminine spray can stop it.

The "other" odor. It starts in the vaginal tract where no spray can work. You can't spray it away. And it's more offensive than external odor caused by perspiration.

That's the reason you need Norforms...the second deodorant. These tiny suppositories kill germs—stop odor in the vaginal tract for hours. Something no spray can do. And doctor-tested Norforms can be used as often as necessary. They insert easily, quickly.

Get Norforms' protection for the "other" odor no spray can stop.
